RESOURCE 4: Agribusiness

The development of organic products and an "Organic Samoa" brand allowed Women in Business and Development Incorporated to undertake a Farm to Table project with 48 organically certified farmers, providing weekly fruit and vegetables supplies to café and restaurants. The Samoa Agribusiness Project funded by the ADB was launched in May 2015 provided financial support for agribusinesses development. The agriculture sector is now more focused on value adding for both the export and domestic market and building skills and capacity for sustaining agricultural developments. Specifically for Agriculture, there is a need to identify the percent of arable land available for the development of the sector to ensure there is food security and income generation.

Tokelau was the first nation in the world to go 100% solar in 2012. Now the country is aiming to keep its fully renewable energy status in the future using wind power. This is going to reduce the need for diesel fuel backup in prolonged times of cloudy weather, and when the solar cell system needs maintenance.

RESOURCE 7: Samoa's Government response to the Measles epidemic

The Ministry of Health will utilise the community for public healthcare, in response to the measles epidemic which has claimed 63 lives, 58 of them children under four.

In 2014, the World Health Organisation W.H.O repackaged its non-communicable disease (N.C.D.) interventions for a uniquely Samoan setting.

Called P.E.N Fa'aSamoa (Package of Essential N.C.D. interventions), it was a village-based model for disease prevention and control, especially utilising the village women's committees who work between the community and the government.

Using these women, villagers were being referred to healthcare earlier when abnormal symptoms were detected.

W.H.O representative in Samoa Dr. Rasul Baghirov said the programme was immensely successful and villages that employed the initiative saw better health outcomes.
